

WAN350 Implementing Enterprise Optimization Architectures

This five-day, solution-focused class offers in-depth experience with the Riverbed Optimization System and features hands-on installation and configuration experience using a SteelHead™ Appliance and SteelHead virtual appliance with SteelCentral Controller deployment integration.

This class provides common and advanced scenarios with QoS and both serial and parallel Steelhead clusters as well as virtual In-path lab-intensive deployments in PBR, WCCP and Interceptor® infrastructure solutions.

This course is specifically designed for Riverbed® customers and resellers/partners involved in the design or deployment of the Riverbed SteelHead product family in more complex enterprise environments. For students who need to perform more basic operational support and reporting we recommend the course “WAN200 Optimization Essentials”.
